INSURANCE SPECIAL

FOREWORD

The ongoing Covid-19 situation has not only presented obstacles, challenges, hindrances and almost complete lockdown scenarios across the country but also throttled, bottled and even heckled the academic activities in Academia across cities and rural areas. At CHRIST (Deemed to be University) and in the Department of Professional Studies, we felt that we need to look at these challenges as opportunities and as the saying goes “Let us not limit our challenges instead challenge our limits”.

Risk awareness and risk management techniques and initiatives are gaining momentum among all sections of the society both in India and across the Globe. Insurance programs of Our Department are bound to become a feeder ground for reinventing financial solutions to the pandemic problems that the world is presently going through.

This edition of Insurance Special is a tribute to the vision of our Director Prof Biju Toms who had the courage to think beyond with positive disruption, backed by the continued and unflinching support of Dr Kavitha Desai our HOD, team DPS, the team of practicing professionals from the Insurance Industry and the truly talented and dedicated team of young millennials from the student community.

We believe that this opportunity presented by the absence of live classroom sessions, our inability to have interactive sessions in the classroom scenario and also reaching out to students and parents who are spread across the country and the globe was challenging yet it is high time that we at our university did what we are best at!, Practicing what we preach and integrate transitionally from chalk and talk to walk the talk.

It is in this context that technology or rather the optimum utilization of technology, which was hitherto not thought of as a major tool in reaching out education to the millennials who were easily adaptable to a world of technology and social media was given the priority in administering of virtual classes, assessment that was relevant and updated and evaluation that propelled practical benefits through application of theoretical learning and conceptual clarity.

Insurance DSE programs for DPS commenced the Insurance classes on the online platform in the month of May 2020

Experienced Experts from the Industry were brought in as Resource persons for conducting classes for the students of 2nd year and 3rd year UG programs which otherwise might have been a challenge, as it would have involved the logistics and hospitality aspects of getting them to the campus at the designated time and date. Most of the social media and technology platforms available in the educational sector and more so accepted and approved by Christ Deemed to be University have been utilised by Crossover Training Academy during this process to reach out to students this vacation period.

We are exploring Technology platforms such as Google meet, Webex, Google classroom, Moodle platform besides using email as an option along with the informal WhatsApp medium and have found success in reaching out to the students. The second year's students had their classes, which commenced on 9 May 2020 and the third year's students on 8 May 2020.

The synchronous and asynchronous format as proposed by the University has been adopted and 19 hours of synchronous and 6 hours asynchronous have been conducted. Pre reading, Case study videos and evaluation through Moodle platform quiz were successfully completed on 31st May 2020 for three groups of students that also included specifically targeted LMS & CDP Licentiate Mentoring Sessions & Career Development Program.

Case study based teaching and learning, videos, PPT, Interactive live sessions, and Discussion on current practices and Feedback are some of the ways through which classes have become interesting from the students' perspective and response. The grading and evaluation along with granting attendance which will eventually accumulate into the DSE credits have been designed, planned and executed on completion of each Unit.

Overall objective of these programs in this context is to fall in line with the goal, vision and mission of the department and University, empower, and encourage students to become complete finance professionals in the field of Risk Management and Insurance thereby enabling and enhancing their prospects of a better career as employees and Entrepreneurs.

"The tragedy in life is not that we aim too high and miss it, but that we aim too low and reach it" Michael Angelo

CRESCENDO

Crescendo is a National Risk Management conclave and fest held by the Department of Professional Studies, CHRIST (Deemed to be University). The symposium brought together a lot of insurance professionals, insurance organizations, corporate experts and students from across the country sharing their expertise and experiences in various fields of health insurance, morbidity, financial planning, risk management, cyber security, disaster management and insurance research in the academia. The fest consisted of varied rounds testing the business and risk management acumen of the participants from various universities. The four main events of the fest were Muspelheim (Risk Management), New Product Development, Shadow CEO and Quiz. On the first day, the fest started with an opening ceremony followed by few panel discussions with respect to cyber security and health care management. After the ceremony, rounds for each event were conducted. Even the conclave simultaneously progressed with various interactions amongst the experts and the students. The second day had the quiz rounds covering the areas related to risk management and insurance along with the other events being continued from day 1. The finale of the quiz and the Shadow CEO event took place in the auditorium which was followed by the closing ceremony. The closing ceremony ended with insights from the department faculty and experts from the insurance industry.

Backstory / internal emotions of the Team

Crescendo 2020, held from 29th Jan 2020 to 30th Jan 2020, was a one of a kind risk management fest with a flavour of insurance in the country. Crescendo was also a big step forward for Team Cufflinksia with help from the department in organising its first fest.

The planning and preparing for the fest was started months in advance to guarantee a successful fest and uphold the reputation that Cufflinksia and the Department of Professional Studies have all over the country.

Everyone involved in the programme put in their best efforts into the task assigned to them and also showed great teamwork and camaraderie in helping each other out to ensure we were meeting every milestone successfully leading up to the days of the fest.

With a lot of enthusiasm and excitement, the team never stood unsure in their ability to pull off the fest and jumped over every hurdle steadily which inspired everyone further to put in more efforts. The team bonded with each other in a way that nobody was expecting in such a short time.

Organising this fest was a great learning lesson for the entire team in the efforts and challenges that one has to face while organising a fest and together we overcame problems that seemed impossible at the time. It was an amazing experience teaching us how to manage a team, how to work calmly under pressure, and more than anything, the way everyone put aside their differences and worked in perfect synchrony with each other was inspiring along with the daily dose of motivation from Crescendo event coordinator Professor Jossy Peter and Mr. Vijay Rotricks whose guidance at every step of the way played a major role in making this fest a success.

FESTING COMMITTEE

Robert Boyce once said, “Knowledge is power but Knowledge shared, is power multiplied.”

The Department of Professional Studies is renowned across the campus for its academic excellence and extracurricular prowess. The Department is home to one of the most dedicated and insightful business festing teams across the festing circuit of the Country. With an aim to tread further in this pursuit of knowledge and skill, the Department came up with an initiative of curating a club that aimed at sharpening its students’ business acumen. The Festing Club was established in December 2019 with great enthusiasm.

The club essentially looked towards helping students hone the skills within them. The festing club’s activities were conducted to provide its members with an insight into the various rounds that take place in a Business Fest. The members comprised of festers and non-festers alike. The Events covered as a part of this club were as follows:

Marketing, Finance, Human Resources, Production Manager, Business Quiz, Entrepreneurial Development, Public Relations & Best Manager.

The students were asked to choose an area as their Major and Minor events respectively. With every session conducted, the students were observed and their performances were noted. The sessions were curated and conducted by well experienced festers of the festing team. The best-performing students were tested and got an opportunity to participate in numerous business fests and thus, be a part of the festing team.

This year, the Department won a staggering 13 overall titles which saw the active involvement of several members of the festing club.
